INTRODUCTION

Indian is well-known about culture in the world. Values, ethics, morality etc are the part of Indian society. Indian society based on the culture, social and religions patterns and this variable indulged directly in Indian social life.

Ramayana and Mahabharata are the great ancient epics which have mainly stick with sacrifice and tolerance.

When we peruse the study of knowledge and education system of India, we notice the wonderful features and characteristics of Bhartiya (Indian) knowledge system. Earlier in Indian society, was place to Gurukul pattern. Students used to live with Guru. In that way there was close bonding and control of Guru. But as per the time span, there are many lacunas, challenges and less response to education and knowledge system in current scenario.

The main aim of this paper is to promote the ancient Indian value system and try to put frame old knowledge pattern in today's education system. Identification, study and eradication of drawbacks in Indian knowledge system and move towards the positive futuristic approach.

There should be the place in each and every stream of education to human ethics and professional values.

A Person with good values is revered all around the world and hence it has become important for each and every one of us. There is a need in country to serve for the development of the society by inculcating good values and ethics within us. There are many spiritual leaders in India who are trying to bring back these values taught by the ancestors of our nation and create good beings. There are many organizations like the Yogoda Satsang Society of India, the art of living, etc who are trying to spread the importance of human values all around the world.

'Karmas.' dignified the status of every individual in the society. So it is very important for each and every human being to inculcate good values within themselves for the development of their self and society. Professional Ethics and human values have great importance in social sciences. It is an essential process towards the development. If a person has professional ethics, it keeps on practicing them boost towards the development. Human values also refer to the same thing the emotions or feelings as Kindness – Generosity – Punctuality

IMPORTANT FACTORS OF PROFESSIONAL ETHICS AND VALUES

1) Kindness :
2) Punctuality :
3) Generosity:
4) Helpful :
5) Dedication for work :

Now a days a subject cultural studies is becoming a global issue. In the age of globalization everyone is trying to maintain his or her global status in the society. Cultural transmission and interaction concepts are the today's part of life.

With the cultural transmission and lag new social problems also arising in the society which affecting directly or indirectly on human social life. The existence of fashion and fad is well-known quality of cultural aspect. The survival in the society is very difficult and adjustable to everyone. The acceptance and involvement of the modern things in life is mandatory and necessary.

Education system is basic developmental tool of every society. That is why government has to maintain the educational policy as per the global trend. Modern students should get the knowledge of cultural parameters and characteristics.

With context to Indian society various courses has been started by government of India as well as maximum states through the universities and colleges. Up to the cultural dialogue and acceptance it's comfortable, but when the problems go to raise it attract the intension of society. May be that effects creates side effects and corrupt the young generation of the country.

This is a need of time to do the study, acceptance and transmission of the new thing in the life but society has to identify the cultural side effects of other countries.

Professional ethics and human values are the most essential elements. Each and every individual must be aware about this. Moral values, good manners, ethics, moral values in human beings are getting defrosted in current scenario. People started becoming more self centered. They just think of themselves & their family but doesn't show concern towards rest of the society. They don't fell any moral duty towards nation. People nowadays are becoming stone hearted. They have lost their feeling of responsibility towards the society. Basic human values like honestly, kindness, humbleness, respect of elders, less use of abusive words, dedication towards ones work sincerity, helpful nature are not found in towards youngsters. This generation is becoming rapid and fast. Youths are getting addicted towards technology and hyper media culture which cause for lacking of family, friends and relatives.

These human values, manners and ethics must be rembibbed in the hearts of man so that problems can get solved. Therefore certain things related to ethics will make the students understand how to realize the utility of their scientific knowledge for upliftment & betterment of society. Professional ethics corresponds to the behaviors of each and every individual professionally. How should be our way of during interviews and public places comes under professional ethics. Having a proper knowledge of ethics make us stand with dignity in society they make us emotionally strong and even more balanced so that we can take decisions in right way. Our moral values & professional ethics are the factors which determine our behavior in public places make our gain a respect in society.

Lack of human values make human hearted and think only selfishly. They don't have sympathy & mercy for others. They completely self centered and can never think about other people of the society they don't consider their moral duty to help for betterment of the society.

A human being with good moral value is always gain to society because he himself not only develops but develops the entire society. Therefore such human beings are the prime requirement of the today's nation.

Inclusion of such morality in educational curriculum of students, it help to make the student aware about society for a while and find new solutions to problem faced by our country in more scientific way so that we can come out with a better solution which help in develops of our society and nation. Ethical values and human values are very important for a person to survive in a country and have a good name.Every person can earn money in one or the other way but being a good person by human values and ethics is the important thing.

Ethics don't need much stuff to be inherited. They can just be followed by heart. Some of them, you just learn them from your parents. Not just, like you learn them from your parents, you are supposed to learn it from your parents because it is with them only how you grow up. They will let you go to school and then comes school. A place where your tender life begins. Your dreams cherish. You find great teachers, great friends.

1) Always give respect to elders.
2) Respect mother and Father,Teachers and guests.
3) If you give respect you get respect.
4) Lend a healthy life away from all bad habits.
