I. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this study is to study the benefits of those who have gone abroad and those who are living abroad permanently or temporary foreign visit and to explore who will be eligible for yoga abroad. Going abroad was considered a great achievement and an active activity in the 1970s - 80s. It was considered an act performed only by the affluent. They only went abroad for higher studies and work. Due to the subsequent scientific development and technological development, going abroad has become a very simple thing. Indians got job opportunities abroad through computer and software. The growth of India's current computer industry has made it easier for all people to go abroad. Due to this the number of our people living abroad permanently is increasing exponentially. Income tax and foreign exchange are being levied on our people living abroad. The value of our country is enhanced by the knowledge and professionalism of our people.

II. IMPACT OF PLANETS

Rahu is a leader in the field of yoga. The planets Saturn and the Moon also play a role. All three planets have the advantage of being able to go abroad. As far as sins are concerned, the ninth and twelfth sins play a major role in the system of going abroad. The impact of the planets Rahu, Saturn and the Moon on the advantages of those who go abroad for higher education and work, and to what extent the important planet for going abroad is influenced by those who are born in which destinations are more likely to go abroad. The purpose is to examine the impact of the ninth sin, the tenth sin, which can give them the privilege of living in higher education and living abroad, and the tenth sin of the professional position.

In astrology, the planets Rahu, Saturn, and the Moon are referred to as planets for going abroad. Of these, Iraq means separation from the family and deportation to a foreign country, a foreign country, or a foreign country. Saturn and the Moon together with it represent the mission of sending abroad. Going abroad requires the strength of the three planets Rahu, Saturn and the Moon. All those who go abroad are likely to have these strengthened. But this is not to say that all those who are strong are going abroad. The caricatures of sins going abroad can also take place. It can be said that there is yoga going abroad if the dominance of Rahu is high. The effects of the planets Rahu, Saturn and the Moon on the benefits of going abroad have been explored and the extent to which those influences have contributed to going abroad. The facts of this study can confirm the causality of the planets mentioned in ancient astrological texts.

Only those who have a certain advantage system can go abroad and find out the reason why they go abroad and their pros and cons. This study has been done with the further objective that astrology can be a great help to them in knowing their mood, lifestyle, higher education, professional consciousness, appropriate opportunity and circumstances and acting accordingly.
