CHAPTER 1
INTRODUCTION
1.1 INTRODUCTION
In a developing economy entrepreneurial development is of vast importance. The major two issues faced by developing countries are status of employment and under employment. Entrepreneurship is an effective remedy for unemployment as well as under employment. Entrepreneurship is a collaboration of people having an objective to implement their business idea. It can be developed and fostered through specific instructional and intensive coaching programs. Entrepreneurship education develops a person to become an entrepreneur. It can be developed by enabling student’s personal interest and pursued with relevant activity. Entrepreneurial preferences have a direct relationship with future business orientation. Being a remedy for state of unemployment, entrepreneurship development is of vast importance in Kerala. Wherever the well qualified, educated, proficient youth encounter the severe issues of unemployment entrepreneurship can be promoted. Students are more likely to formulate choice of starting their own business. They feel success, recognition and can evaluate their own and others interest. Motivating college students towards a culture of entrepreneurship and innovation will have an impact, both regionally and internationally.

1.2 STATEMENT OF PROBLEM
The study area is Changanacherry taluk of Kottayam district, Kerala. 60 college students of Changanacherry taluk are randomly selected for the study. Changanassery (also known by its former name Changanacherry) is a municipal town in Kottayam district in the state of Kerala, India. Changanassery is the gateway to the Western Ghats and Kuttanad. It is one of the major educational and religious centers of Kerala, with nearly 100% literacy. There are five colleges, eight higher secondary schools, one vocational higher secondary school and ten high schools within a four-kilometer radius of the town. The main colleges of Changanassery taluk are St.Berchmans College, Assumption College, NSS Hindu College, St. Joseph College of Communication and Kristu Jyothi College. The students for the study are selected from these colleges.

1.3 SCOPE OF STUDY
Entrepreneurship education is an important solution to the unemployment situation of university graduates. This is done by guiding them to organize a new ventures. UG and PG students who pursue their own ideas through entrepreneurship are more likely to find satisfaction in their careers, as well as impacting job creations. This study focuses on factors determining entrepreneurial motivation of college students. This study has been confined only to colleges in “CHANGANASSERRY TALUAK”. This investigation helps to examine how college students are being motivated towards entrepreneurship.

1.4 OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY
- To analyze the entrepreneurial attitude of students in general.
- To analyze the role of academic institution in developing entrepreneurial behavior.
- To evaluate the attitude of students towards entrepreneurship.
- To analyze the awareness of college students about problems faced by entrepreneurs.
1.5 METHODOLOGY

Methodology is a crucial step in any research because it directly influences the whole research and findings. The present study is carried out with reference to “A STUDY ON ENTREPRENEURIAL MOTIVATION AMONG COLLEGE STUDENTS WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO CHANGANASSERRY TALUK”. The primary source of data collection is based on structured questionnaire. The sample size denotes the number of samples used for conducting study. The sample size consisting of 60 samples are selected using convenient sampling method. The collected data is analyzed and interpreted by using percentage analysis and expressed in the form of tables, charts etc. The data are collected from both primary and secondary sources. Primary data are collected using questionnaire method and secondary data are collected from published sources such as articles, journals, newspapers, books etc. Period of the present study is from June 2020 to July 2020.

CHAPTER - 2
THEORATICAL FRAMEWORK
2.1 ENTERPRISE AND ENTREPRENEUR

An enterprise is an entity or an organization that is created for industrial functions or business ventures that requires efforts. It's targeted on providing merchandise and services, keeping in sight of numerous aspects like monetary, commercial, and industrial. An enterprise consists of people and physical assets with a typical goal of generating profits. A person, who creates an enterprise is named as business person. The act of creating an enterprise is understood as entrepreneurship. Entrepreneurship could be a method of organizing and managing a business venture and assumptive risks concerned in it. It involves making and implementing new ideas and artistic solutions. Entrepreneurship has emerged over the last 20 years because of the strongest economic forces and ever increasing ideas and knowledge base. It plays a major role in employment generation, which in turn increases the national income of the country. The success and failure of an enterprise depends on the potential of the business person. A business person must be targeted on adapting himself/herself in tune with the changes happening within the economy, industries and market. A business person ought to be able to bear risks and uncertainties concerned with the business. The formulation of an effective business plan and sound execution help an entrepreneur to maximize the chances of success. (Nitisha, nd)

2.2 CONCEPT OF ENTREPRENEURSHIP

According to Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises Development (MSMED) Act 2006 "Enterprise means an industrial undertaking or a business concern or any other establishment, by whatever name called, engaged in the manufacture or production of goods, in any manner, pertaining to any industry specified in the first schedule to the industries”. The act of making a brand new enterprise in response to known opportunities is termed as entrepreneurship. In different words, entrepreneurship is outlined as an action taken by an entrepreneur to ascertain a brand new enterprise. The activities of an enterprise is understood in terms of either beginning a brand new enterprise or reviving the present enterprise. This involves a definite degree of risk. Act of entrepreneurship is commonly allied with true uncertainty of market for its product. Even if the market exists, there's no guarantee that a selected new enterprise would be able to develop his/her foothold in existing market. (Tax Guru, 2020)

2.3 DEFINITION OF ENTREPRENEUR

An entrepreneur is an individual, who establishes an enterprise. The word entrepreneur has been derived from a French word entreprendre, which means to undertake. An entrepreneur is a person, who undertakes risks, mobilizes resources, and generates employment by establishing and running an enterprise. According to Encyclopedia Americana (1988) "An entrepreneur is a person who assumes the risk of bringing together the means of production. It includes capital, labor, and material, and receives his reward in profit from the market value of his product." (Guru, nd)

CHAPTER - 4
FINDINGS, SUGGESTIONS AND CONCLUSION

The study titled "Entrepreneurial Motivation among College Students (with Special Reference to Changanassery Taluk)" is conducted to know the factors determining entrepreneurial motivation of college students. It looks into how college students are being motivated towards entrepreneurship. The response was collected through questionnaire and responses were analyzed in a proper way to derive suitable findings. The findings of the study conducted are as follows:

FINDINGS

MAJOR FINDINGS

- Through the study we learned that most of the college students have a positive attitude towards being an entrepreneur.
- Majority of the respondents agree that the university motivates entrepreneurship.
- It was found that the educational qualification was a key determining factor in deciding the success of an entrepreneur.
- The analysis made it clear that a vast majority of students ranked financial problems as the main reason for not pursuing entrepreneurship as a career. Lack of knowledge on entrepreneurship was cited as the second biggest reason that limits the growth of entrepreneurship. The other factors were ranked in the following order: Lack of education, Political issues, Family pressure and others.
In the survey majority of students were of the opinion that mental and physical preparations were an essential requirement for becoming an entrepreneur.

OTHER FINDINGS
- The majority of students agreed that they were attracted by business ideas of entrepreneurs this meant that most of the students tried to learn about how an entrepreneur went about in handling his activities
- Most of the respondents show interest in understanding the working of an entrepreneurial firm. They do this by visiting such firms or reading articles regarding the same.
- Most of the respondents felt that the gender of a potential entrepreneur does not play a vital role in his or her success as an entrepreneur.
- As most students are part of entrepreneurial clubs in their respective college these clubs can act as a platform to nurture potential entrepreneur.

SUGGESTIONS
1. The state government must take action to include more scheme at state level to assist individuals in setting up entrepreneurial firms. They should conduct awareness campaigns regarding the same.
2. The curriculum has a direct impact on the students. Adding more practical sessions into it will boost entrepreneurial motivation into the students.
3. Extension activities should be held by college entrepreneurial clubs to increase the practical awareness among the students.
4. Financial institutions must take efforts to provide liberal financial assistance like loans having lower interest rate or security free loans.
5. The students themselves can form groups and motivate each other to pursue entrepreneurship. These groups can make arrangements to interact with other entrepreneurs, visit their firm etc.
6. Women can be encouraged by providing exclusive development programs which should be conducted by the government.

CONCLUSION
The study was conducted to analyze the factors that motivates students in taking up entrepreneurship. Through the study it is concluded that there are a number of factors that affect growth of an entrepreneur. The motivational factor has a direct impact on students and their growth as potential entrepreneurs. Most of the students are attracted towards entrepreneurship and are well versed regarding the risk involved in entrepreneurship.

Academic, government and financial institutions act as pathways for entrepreneurial growth. The motivating factor provided by these groups of institutions have direct implication in the minds of students. Inclusion of more advanced methods in motivating students should be taken up by such institutions.
